TRINITY BAZAAR A BIG SUCCESS

Church Guilds to Wipe Out Indebtedness.

EXCELLENT MUSICAL PROGRAMMS

Masonic Temple Hall Lined With Beautifully Decorated Booths-Ladies in Attendance Kept Buss-En tertainment to Be Offered Dur ing Continuance of the Event.

The bazant given under the auspices of the guilds of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, which was opened last night at Masonic Tempis hall, is already voted to be a decided success. The proceeds of the bazaar are to b contributed to the church building fund. to wipe out a small indebtedness which Gist Blafr, Mr. Woodbury Blair, Mr. milli remains. #### Benatifully Decorated Booths.

With this object in view the members of the three societies of the church, the Dorcas, Chancel Chapter, and the Rector's Aid Society, have combined their efforts Mr. Aside from the charitable object in view. the managers of the enterprise, led by the Rev. Dr. Richard P. Williams, the rector of Trinity Church, have been at work carnesily for some time preparing

A number of beautifully decorated booths have been erected on the north. south, and west sides of the hall. These are in charge of the ladies of the different societies, and with the exception of the hour which was devoted to an instrumental and vocal concert, the ladies and their assistants were kept busy attending to the wants of their petrons.

Hall Draped in Green.

Aside from the brightness which the varied colored decorations of the booths gave the hall, the beauty of the whole scene was grently increased by the tasteful draping of green which hung above the booths on the walls.

The Japanese tea booth, which is located in the southeast corner of the hail. is most artistically designed and handsomely decorated. After the concert it the visitors, and at each those in attend-

The other booths are the eigar booth, which is in charge of Miss G. S. James and Miss May Howard. Their stock in trade consists of several excellent brands of clears, so it is not surprising that they had a good run of trade among the Next on the south side came the art booth, which is in charge of Mrs. Theodore Ebaugh. West of this was the palmistry booth, presided over by Madam Palmer, who was kept busy tracing the future of her patrons on their palms.

The flower and fancy work booth, also on the south side of the hall, is in charge of Mrs. M. J. Hunt, Mrs. A. R. Chase, Miss Mary Chase, and Miss Webber Then comes the candy booth, in charge of the Misses Beisle Carr, Clara Blake, Alice Wood, Marguerite Williams, and Emma Redford.

On the north side of the hall is the cake booth, in charge of Mrs. Mary Carter and the Misses Carter. East of this is the fancy articles booth, in charge of Mrs. R. P. Williams, ansisted by Mrs. W. M. Steuart, Mrs. L. Heiberger, and other memhers of the Chancel Chapter.

Luncheon and Ten to Be Served.

The bazzar will be open every day and evening until Thursday, when it will close. Beginning today lunch will be served each day from 12 to 2 o'clock by the ladies of Chancel Chapter. An excellent bill of fare is ensured, and there is no doubt that this feature of the bazaar will prove as great a success as any other. In the afternoon from $ to 6 o'clock a tea luncheon will be served. The bazzar opened under the most favorable circumstances, and it goes without saying that those who were present spent a most enjoyable evening.

Excellent Musical Programme.

The committee of general arrangements provided a programme of instrumental and vocal selections, all of which were well rendered. The programme consisted of the following numbers: Miss M. Bertha Woodard, song, "A Gypsy Maiden I;" Mrs. Wilson, rose-pink panne velvet, with garniture of pink poppies, Orna-Marguerita Jones, piano solo; Miss M. Bertha Woodard, song, "When the Miss Clagett, white liberty silk, flow-sold with high rose and white later. Woodard, song, "A Gypsy Maiden I;" Heart Is Young." and Miss Lucy R. Mason, violin solo. Unfortunately, Miss Rosalie C. Mayer and Miss Mary W. Mason, who were to have contributed to the evening's entertainment, were unable to be present on account of illness

The general committee in charge of the bazaar is composed of the Rev. Dr. Richard P. Williams, ex officio chairman; Mrs. A. M. Sailer, Mrs. George Watts, and Mrs. M. A. Coppinger, Dorcas Society; Miss. Lily Aiker, Mrs. W. M. Steuart, and Miss Julia Carr, Chancel Chapter, and Mrs. F. M. Gibson, Miss Catherine Waters, and Miss Jeannette Medford, Rector's Aid So-

Other Entertalament Offered.

An excellent programme of entertain ment has been provided for every evening the bazzar is open. Tonight the feature will be the dream scene from "Macbeth" by Miss Margaret Linton and other selections by some of her scholars,

Tomorrow night there will be a concert by the vested choir of Trinity Church, under the direction of Mr. Kirkpatrick, On Thursday evening Prof. Thompson will eive an exhibition of his trained dogs. twelles these attractions there will be inemental and vacal a fections each centrig by popular he at mosten artists

JOLLY FAT MEN WIN.

Business Men's Club Loses Three

League Bowling Games. When the scorer at the Jolly Fat Men's lub last night finished his work at the end of the first game and the Business Men's Bowling Team showed a total of 855, it was the hope of many of the spectators that these earnest bowlers had egained some of their last season's form and would be in the running for at least one set of games. But they could not go the full distance at the pace. The first third they lost by thirty-one pins and the two-thirds mack found them a century behind, and they were distanced in the finishing sprint.

In other words, the Jolly Fat Men's Club won the full set of three games from the visiting Business Men's Club from South Washington. The winning team bowled consistently all the way through, and every man showed a strong average. In the first game Hopkins and Kidd, of the visitors, bowled without a break and led their team in best scores. The rest of the story is told in the following totals, and in the standing of trans which shows the Fat Men moving ip closer to second place.

CASE AGAINST OFFICER KEMP.

District Commissioners Decide to Drop It.

REFUSAL TO PROSECUTE.

Commissioner Ross Regrets Mrs. Dunbar's Friends Will Not Take Matter Up in the Police Court, as Then the Guilt or Innocence of the Accused Could Be Determined.

The District Commissioners, the Chief of Police, and all others interested have decided to drop the case of Policeman William Kemp, who was charged last Sepember with an assault upon Mrs. Paul Dunbar, when the lines broke through and there was a general mix-up at the Capitol on the day of the McKinley funerai.

This famous case has been under conideration by the trial board of the Police Department, and by the Major and Superintendent of Police. The testimony brought forward at each examination has been reviewed at length by the District Commissioners.

Can Make Nothing of It. In brief, they can make nothing of it. The officer in his excitement is alleged to have struck the lady, but it has appeared to be very hard to prove it by any reputable witness. After months of consideration and nights of meditation, Commissioner Ress has come to the conclusion that it is impossible to arrive at any definite decision as to the facts in the case. It was decided some time ago that the best place to settle the difficulty was in the Police Court, but there appears to be a disinclination on the part of Mrs. Dunbar's friends to take the matter to that tribunal.

Declines to Prosecute. Owing to this disinclination, Mr. Ross thus sums up the situation in a communication upon the matter to his associates; "I greatly regret the disinclination on the part of Mrs. Dunbar's friends to take the matter up in the Police Court. This proceeding must be regarded as analogous to a criminal prosecution. The result

to the officer, if found guilty, would mean a heavy fine or dismissal from the force. "I, therefore, would be inclined to adhere to the rules of evidence which requires in such cases that the offence be established beyond any reasonable doubt, It is barely possible that in some unfortunate way the baton of the officer came in contact with Mrs. Dunhar's head, and roduced a wound which bled profusely, but I cannot from this testimony satisfy my own mind beyond a reasonable doubt that this officer struck Mrs. Dunbar intentionally on the occasion referred to."

Matter to Be Dropped. Not being able to decide the case himself Commissioner Ross has recomsociates that the matter be dropped as the ensiest way out of a very difficult situa-
